Corrections officials confer on Coast

Gex eyes buffer zone as satellite prison site

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors is considering locating a satellite prison for state prisoners inside or at the edge of NASA's buffer zone.

The board attorney, Walter Gex III, met Tuesday with a group of Department of Corrections representatives and coastal county supervisors to discuss the prison.

The board of supervisors has approved a resolution supporting the construction of the prison in Hancock County, one of the other coastal counties or an adjacent county.

Gex was authorized by the board to look into the possibilities of placing the facility in the buffer zone but said he had not yet talked to NASA officials about the matter.

"The buffer zone would be an ideal location because it's remote and there would be minimal objections if the land is available," Gex said.

The proposed facility, according to State Department of Corrections

Representative Micky Chambers, would house from 500 to 750 state prisoners and would cost about $16 million to construct.

Annual operating costs are estimated at $4 million, but those would be paid through the Department of Corrections.

In addition, the facility would create about 200 jobs and would have a payroll of $3 million.

Chambers said that only class A and B security prisoners would be housed in the satellite prison.

Class A prisoners are minimum security prisoners, usually trustys, and class B prisoners are medium security.

Class C prisoners would remain in the state penitentiary at Parchman, which will eventually be converted into a maximum security facility if enough satellite prisons can be built.

County to seek federal help with clearing bayou debris

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has decided to ask the Federal Emergency Management Agency for assistance in cleaning out Bayou Phillips.

According to County Engineer Larry Seal, who recommended that the board ask for FEMA assistance, removing trees and other debris knocked into the bayou by Hurricane Elena should improve drainage over more than 4,000 acres.

Areas which drain into the bayou include parts of Lakeshore, BaySide

Park, Shoreline Park and Springwood Park.

Since hurricane debris is causing part of the drainage trouble, FEMA may be able to provide some funding as well as arrange for the Corps of Engineers to do part of the work.

Seal said he inspected the Bayou Phillips watershed last week with Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge and came to the conclusion that the drainage is inadequate, particularly on the north end of Bayou Phillips.

However, he also concluded that no amount of drainage work can completely stop flooding like that county residents experienced last week.

"There is absolutely no way we can solve this problem completely with this much rain," he said.

Seal said he had heard rainfall estimates of as much as 10 to 12 inches of rain within 12 hours. He also said that the rainfall exceeded the 25-year statistical flood levels for the area.

The 25-year statistical flood is a measurement used to insure that bridges and roads will be above the highest flood levels likely during 25 years or more.

"I don't know what can be done as far as severe flooding is concerned," the engineer said.

"This drainage basin controls 4,000 or 5,000 acres, it's relatively low and it's bowl-shaped. It's just like a saucer with a crack in one side."

"When the water comes in faster than it can run out of that crack, with the crack being Bayou Phillips, the water level's going to rise."

"You may keep it from rising quite so high by cleaning out some of these drains, particularly Bayou Phillips north of US-90, but it's my opinion that when you get this much rain you can expect severe flooding," Seal said.

He said his inspection showed that the drainage channel under the Bayou Phillips Bridge at US-90 is of adequate size, but the natural drains collecting the water that run under it, particularly the bayou itself, are not adequate.

Seal added that he may make a second recommendation later that an old timber bridge on the frontage road to Old US-90 be removed and the frontage road be blocked off.

He explained that the bridge is not used any longer and impedes drainage.

He said he has discussed the matter with Herbert Moody, a State Highway Department maintenance

Players set auditions for "Crimes of the Heart"

Auditions for the Waveland Players fall production, "Crimes of the Heart," will be Sunday at 3 p.m. and Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Waveland Civic Center.

Director Ted Stechmann said parts are available for four women ages 23 to 35 in appearance and two men in the same age range.

Other characters involved include a self-righteous cousin who lives next door, a young lawyer with a cause and an old beau rediscovered.

Stechmann characterizes the play as "a slice of life with local color."

The production is scheduled for four performances in late November.

Waveland changes gas meter ordinance

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Waveland Board of Aldermen has rescinded an ordinance increasing the monthly charge for commercial gas meters.

The board voted to replace the ordinance with a new one increasing the charge for custom-made meters only.

According to Mayor John Longo Jr., the original ordinance targeted only the custom-made meters but was worded unclearly, making it appear that the city planned to charge $20 minimum per month for all commercial customers.

Gas customers with regular size meters, which contain pipe measuring one inch or less, will continue to pay $9.95 minimum per month whether the meter serves a residential or commercial building.

The $20 per month minimum will be charged only to those with custom-made meters larger than one inch. The charge is being changed mainly to cover the high cost of the meters, Longo said.

The new ordinance will take effect

30 days from the date it is first advertised.

In other business, the board:

—Authorized a $3,012 annual contract with Baker and Taylor of Texas for supply of books to the city library on a lease-purchase plan;

—Agreed to zone the part of Shoreline Park inside the city limits residential-1, which allows single family dwellings but prohibits trailers;

—Accepted the zoning board's recommendation for approval of several yard variances; and —Extended Wednesday business hours for city hall.

The board meets again Oct. 16.

EUDORA WELTY EXHIBIT—Family photographs of Eudora Welty, Mississippi's most acclaimed contemporary writer, are included in the exhibit "Eudora" which will be shown through Oct. 21 at Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on US-90 in Bay St. Louis.

From 500 negatives recently deposited in the Department of Archives and History, the State Historical Museum has assembled an exhibit extremely rare in its documentation of a writer's early life.

"Eudora," a photographic look at Eudora Welty's life until the publication of her first book in 1941, does much more, however, than merely document events.

Security and love, balanced with the freedom of encouragement to explore and inquire, are felt in these pictures, which are displayed alongside comments by Miss Welty.

The exhibit will be showing through Oct. 21 at Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on US-90.

Throughout her career, Miss Welty has written of the family as "the deepest spring" in the heart.

In the recently published "One Writer's Beginnings" (Harvard University Press), Miss Welty said of her work that almost from the beginning and "from various points within it and from outside it, I've been writing about the structure of the family in stories and novels."

The photographs in the exhibit were taken primarily by Miss Welty's father, Christian Webb Welty, and comprise the most recent addition to the Eudora Welty Collection at the Department of Archives and History.

The first acquisition, obtained in 1957, included original manuscripts of eleven works. Since then, the collection has expanded to include manuscripts, letters, photographs, first editions, translations, critical studies, theses, and newspaper clippings.

A catalog accompanies the exhibit and contains photographs with Miss Welty's comments, as well as excerpts from the recent Harvard Publication.

It is available in the Old Capitol Sales Shop for $10.95 plus tax. A poster, featuring one of the photographs of Miss Welty as a child, is available for $3 plus tax; $1.75 postage should be added to each order.

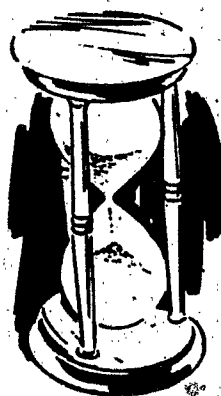

"Eudora" is part of the traveling exhibits program of the State Historical Museum, Jackson, where the exhibit originated and was first shown.

The museum is a division of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, a state agency.

Inquiries about the exhibit or publication orders may be sent to P.O. Box 571, Jackson, MS 39205.

Litter on beach concern of many

A survey done by the Hancock-Harrison Technical Advisory Council (TAC), has turned up some interesting opinions from local residents on our beachfront.

The Technical Advisory Council members from Hancock County have been appointed by the Board of Supervisors and the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Jeff Taylor of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission has been coordinating the endeavors of the TAC members, the Bureau of Marine Resources, U.S. Corps of Engineers, and technical consultants in the study of a master plan for the beachfront.

The primary concern of many is shore protection along the beachfront.

As many can remember, the sand beach in Hancock County was pumped in 1967, and it was very nice.

You travel Beach Boulevard today and the majority of the sand has disappeared and the beach road is fast decaying.

The survey asked many questions about the use of the beach by residents and how much they used it and in what ways things could be done to help improve its use.

The comments about the sand beach in the survey—which the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce helped to distribute—are worth mentioning:

—Designated areas with children's playground equipment.

—Trash should be picked up and placed into trucks by sanitation crews, and not dumped into and then picked up.

—Cleanliness is a major concern.

—More parking, no animals, no fires, enforce no glass law, clean up polluted waters.

—We need boardwalks with snack bars, operated by private enterprise.

—Do not commercialize.

—I think the beach could be cleaner. We could use more trash bins.

—I need to be proud of anything I'm involved in but I am ashamed to have people see our beach in the condition it is in now. I believe if we would enforce the litter law it would help a great deal.

—I would use the beach several times a week if the beach was replenished.

—Keep it clean.

—Pump in more sand.

—Widen the beach as much as possible for protection from storms as well as appearance and recreation.

—Enforce present restrictions against any further improvements to the Washington Street Pier.

—I think that restrooms and showers would be very helpful.

—Control litter.

—Formulate a continued maintenance program.

—How about an occasional palm tree in Bay-Waveland area? Noise control. The inconsiderate use of 'ghetto blasters' on or near the beach is obnoxious.

—Keep glass and trash out of sand.

—Litter control and beach maintenance are primary concern.

And the comments go on and on...with litter control appearing to be the most mentioned.

There were many more comments. This is just a small sampling.

It is good that a long-range study is being made, because this is something which should have been done many years ago.

Eyes on Mississippi

by Bill Minor

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Sea Coast Echo is happy to begin a weekly column by Bill Minor of Jackson with today's issue. Minor was the longtime Jackson Bureau chief for the New Orleans Times Picayune. We feel his column will prove to be of interest to many of our readers, both those already familiar with his work and the new followers we hope he will gain among The Sea Coast Echo readers.

JACKSON—A whirlwind campaign surprisingly handled by three freshmen senators has apparently settled the struggle over electing a new president pro tem of the Mississippi Senate to replace the fallen Tommy Brooks.

Sen. Glen Deweese of Meridian, the 53-year-old highly regarded chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, last week evidently had better than a majority of the 52-member Senate committed to support him for pro tem.

The third ranking post in state government became vacant after the conviction of Sen. Brooks of Carthage in May for seeking a payoff on a race track betting bill before the Senate.

Deweese had been keeping a relatively low profile in the pro tem race until making a sudden move a week or so ago to sew up the spot.

Three Senate newcomers—Sens. Walter A. "Pud" Graham of New Albany, Hob Bryan of Amory and Rob Smith of Florence—went flying around the state in Deweese's airplane starting Sept. 22, getting signatures. Within a week, sources said they had the necessary 27 senators on the line.

Those close to the Deweese camp, however, were being very close-mouthed about having a lock on the race, apparently trying to muster at least 32 votes to quell any other candidates.

Sen. Emerson Stringer of Columbia, who at one time claimed 17 or 18 votes, apparently was unable to stop Deweese's charge.

Stringer, once the leader of the Senate "country caucus," a rural group which had opposed many of Gov. William Winter's administration proposals, was the only threat to Deweese left in the race which at one time had five candidates.

Some holdout senators questioned why the sudden push had been made by Deweese to sew up the pro tem spot, since the Legislature is not supposed to be back in session until next January.

One bit of speculation was that the Deweese forces sensed the possibility of a special session being held this fall, and they wanted to have their ducks in line. However, the odds are strongly against Gov. Bill Allain calling the lawmakers into special session, since he has already informed some key lawmakers he would not summon them under "any circumstances."

While Deweese is widely liked in the Senate, but a significant bloc of senators previously indicated they were opposed to him becoming pro tem and also holding on to his powerful Appropriations chairmanship.

Traditionally the Senate pro tem has not headed any other major committee, particularly Appropriations or Finance. It is obvious now, however, that some who had strong reservations about breaking the tradition have relented.

Logistically, Deweese will be handicapped since the Appropriations chairman occupies the floor more than any other member and this would preclude him from presiding over the Senate during those times.

One report is that Deweese's campaign leaders made it clear to senators who came aboard that Deweese was not seeking to increase his power, and if holding the two jobs proved too much of a burden, he would step aside.

Early on, Deweese's quest for pro tem was being pushed by Sen. Jack Gordon of Okolona and Sen. George Smith of Gulfport, two older heads in the Senate noted for strong-arm tactics.

Deweese's forces apparently made a strategic decision that it would be better to put Gordon and George Smith in the background and call upon Graham, Bryan and Rob Smith, all of the "freshman class," to be out front in signing up support.

Their campaign timetable initially was to not make the push until the end of October. It was moved up to September, say Deweese's close backers, in order to bring an end to the struggle for the post to allow any hard feelings to heal before January.

Most senators apparently feel now that Lt. Gov. Brad Dye, who in 1984 had unprecedented rapport with the Senate, has lost the control he once had, even though he favored Deweese for the pro tem job.

At the end of the 1985 session in the wake of the Brooks affair, the Senate split was so deep that it will take a great deal of healing to reunify it.

Hancock Animal Shelter joins October Adopt-A-Dog observance

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

Here in the Bay-Waveland area, and at more than 750 animal shelters across the nation, October has been proclaimed Adopt-A-Dog Month.

The annual canine campaign is sponsored by Jerky Treats Dog Snacks and Meaty Bone Dog Biscuits on behalf of the American Humane Association.

Celebrating Adopt-A-Dog Month is dedicated to finding homes for the many dogs and puppies that are lost, abandoned or given up by families no longer able to care for their pets.

The dogs at the Hancock Animal Shelter are highly adoptable and adaptable, and come in a wide variety of ages, sizes and breeds.

"Many of the dogs and puppies are mixed breeds, combining the best of this with the best of that in one package," said Dumestre. "You may call them mutts, but they make terrific pets."

While the shelter is happy to help prospective new owners in the task of selecting a pet, Dumestre said people and animals most often do their own matching.

"A shelter is a great place for love at first sight," he said. And although we witness it every day, it never grows old."

To help keep those love-lights shining, the Hancock Animal Shelter offers October adopters a special "doggie bag" with gifts for owner and dogs alike.

Included are the Dog Lovers' School of Dog Skills training booklet along with complimentary samples and coupons for dog snacks, dog biscuits, and an official "pet-gree."

For a good healthy beginning, the shelter advises prospective dog owners to look for the signs of good health when choosing a new dog.

A dog should have clear eyes, clean ears, a coat without lots of bare patches and an alert behavior. Hancock Animal Shelter performs its own basic health check on dogs.

All prospective dog owners are invited to "go to the dogs" in October, visiting the Hancock Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland.

Hours for adoption are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. The minimal fee of $10 covers the rabies vaccination order and the 5-1 shot. And it's a dog-gone small price to pay for love!

Sincerely,
Cel Dumestre Jr.

Hancock Animal Commission

Silver Creek residents blast supervisor on drainage problems

To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

We, the people of Silver Creek are sick of promises from our supervisor, Mr. James Travirca. We are tired of his excuses and now want to see some results!

It is a shame when we pay taxes for decent roads and drainage and cannot remember the last time our ditches were cleaned or even when our roads were graded.

It is truly a shame when you live on high ground, and when it comes a hard rain for an hour, that our roads are flooded.

We have to miss work because we can't get out. Our children have to miss school because the buses can't get in.

We have had many months of this abuse and would like to see it end.

Thank you.

New Red Cross blood drawing hours established—2 to 7 p.m.

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,

The American Red Cross Mobile Unit will be at the American Legion Home, Post No. 139, Bay St. Louis, on Wednesday, Oct. 9 from 2 to 7 p.m. Formerly, hours were from 2 to 8 p.m.

Our quota this blood drawing is 100 units.

As usual, our present blood supply is low because we failed to meet our quota at the last drawing.

We know you are aware of the importance to the life and health of our community to have blood available at all times, and that to do this we need help.

Will you please assist by requesting your readers and employees, members of their families and friends who are physically able and 17-year-olds or older to come in Wednesday afternoon and donate a unit of blood.

Your assistance in any way to make this drawing a success and productive will not only be appreciated, but is essential to those who will need this blood.

Sincerely,

VAGINITIS

Q.—I seem to get vaginal infections frequently. What causes them?

A.—Vaginitis is reaching epidemic proportions in this country and the number of cases is increasing every year. Yet it's a problem that can be treated easily and successfully in a variety of ways. One reason for its recurrence is that unless the women's sexual partner also is treated, she'll be reinfected. Approximately 85 to 96 percent of men whose partners have infectious vaginitis carry the bacteria or protozoan. Yet, only five percent of them have any symptoms of the condition. So most men don't seek medical treatment, and when they do see a doctor, their condition may be misdiagnosed and treated as nonspecific urethritis, or inflammation of the urinary tract.

Thus a man may continually re-infect a woman who has been successfully treated, or he may pass on the bacteria or protozoan to other sexual partners. For this reason, it's difficult to "cure" vaginitis by treating the woman alone. Some women resort to regular treatment every few months, but their condition can't be permanently controlled until their sexual partners also are treated.

Q.—What are the symptoms of vaginitis?

A.—They include a discharge, which may or may not have an odor, and/or pain and itching. Some women have had the disease for such a long time that they consider the discharge to be normal and, unless they experience pain and itching, may not recognize their need for treatment.

Often doctors diagnose vaginitis after a patient has complained of another problem. Diagnosis is made by examining the discharge under the microscope.

Q.—Are there different types of vaginitis?

A.—Yes, the term describes several conditions. Bacterial vaginosis, for example, is a common condition be afflicted with three main types: bacterial, trichomonas (a protozoan), and yeast infections.

The first two—bacterial and trichomonas—usually are sexually transmitted. It is possible, but highly unlikely, for bacterial or trichomonas vaginitis to be transmitted from a toilet seat. Also hygiene plays little part in contracting these conditions.

About 80 percent of men whose partners have bacterial vaginitis also harbor the bacteria, and at least 96 percent of men whose partners have trichomonas carry the protozoan. The drug metronidazole is often used to treat men and women.

Occasionally, doctors treat a teenager who is not sexually active. The bacteria, which a baby may pick up in the birth canal, can lay dormant for many years. A change in diet or medication may produce symptoms.

After menopause, some women suffer from atrophic vaginitis. This occurs when the flora of the vagina become disturbed by lack of estrogen and allow the overgrowth of certain bacteria. The condition is easily taken care of by supplemental estrogen.

Quotables by CUEVAS

High school football action will return to Tiger stadium on Friday when Bay High plays host to East Central.

The Tigers of Bay High edged Vancleave last week 7-0 in a defensive struggle.

Head Coach Cleveland Williams appears to have his Tigers really rolling, yet should be cautious of East Central.

Hancock North Central's offense got rolling in a high scoring victory over the Pass Christian Pirates last Friday.

Irvin Favre, Hawk head coach, was pleased with his team's 26-6 lead at the half. In the second half each team managed to score six points.

This week North Central will play host to the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws in Hawk stadium.

The Rocks are still stinging from last week's shutout by powerful Long Beach Bearcats. It was the first loss of the season for Head Coach Vernon Powell's Rock-A-Chaws.

The game should be a really good one, as both teams appear to be evenly matched and each has only one loss.

Pass Christian's Pirates will be trying to break into the win column this week when they will help the Stone County Tomcats celebrate Homecoming.

Head Coach Alton Wright's Pirates could surprise the Pirates, but since it is the Tomcats Homecoming, they will have to come up with a super effort.

Friday night's kick-offs are at 7:30 p.m., and we hope the stadiums will be filled with local high school fans.

We have carried several stories about the flooding of areas which have never been under water before in recent issues.

One of our friends in Pearlinton, Roy Baxter who lives on Pearl River and also keeps an eye on the river's height, also has a rain gauge.

In a 12-hour span from midnight Sunday, Sept. 22 to noon on Monday a total of 7.6 inches of rain fell in Pearlinton.

On Tuesday 2.8 inches fell, Thursday 1.1 inches, and Monday of this week 1.8 inches. In just a little over a week, some 13.5 inches of rain was recorded by Baxter.

One must realize that the rainfalls are not the same in all areas, but this can give you an idea of why there has been flooding in some areas which never had problems before.

Flooding happens all over the country, and Hancock County is not unique in having its problems.

Many of the problems of flooding are caused by man, and sometimes efforts have to be made to rectify them.

Diamondhead Baptist revival begins Sunday

Diamondhead Baptist Church is sponsoring a revival Sunday through Thursday, according to Pastor Paul Oglesbee.

Visiting evangelist will be Dr. J. Roy McComb, pastor, First Baptist Church, Columbia.

DR. J. ROY MCCOMB

Dr. McComb's credits include serving as preacher for the State Evangelism Conference; board of trustees, Mississippi College; board member, Mississippi Baptist Convention; board of trustees, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary; moderator of two Baptist associations; and participant in four mission trips to Africa and one mission trip to Bangladesh.

A graduate of Mississippi College and the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, Dr. McComb and his wife, Donna Martin McComb, have served at pastorates in Eden, Brookhaven, Sardis and Pearl prior to going to First Baptist in Columbia in 1976.

Serving as music evangelist for the revival will be Hubert Greer of Brookhaven.

Greer is a native of South Mississippi and formerly resided in Pascagoula.

RICHARD GREER

A graduate of William Carey College, Greer has served ten years in church music ministry.

He is now active in revivals, concerts and crusades.

Revival services will be Sunday at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.; Monday through Thursday services will begin at 7 p.m. at the church, 63780 Diamondhead Drive North.

Oglesbee invites interested persons in the area to attend any or all services.

Shoreline Baptist plans special events to mark new church year

"Cooperation Sunday" is the theme for the beginning of a new church year Sunday at Shoreline Park Baptist Church.

Special activities are planned for the day, in addition to the regular morning services beginning with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. followed by the worship service at 11 a.m.

An old-fashioned dinner on the grounds will be served following the morning services.

With the help of the Gulf Coast Baptist Association, Shoreline Park Baptist was able to secure a loan to complete the present church facilities.

This loan recently was paid in full. Note-burning ceremony will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

An afternoon sing at 1:45 p.m. will feature the Watchman Quartet, along with other local church singing groups.

No evening services are planned. Rev. Peter Kendrick, pastor, invites friends and former members of the church to the worship services and special activities.

ETV Brief

INSTANT CHILD
Ned Beatty, Potty Holiday and Huckleberry Fox star in a new story on ETV about a factory-made "instant child", perfect in every way.

"Konrad" can be seen on "Wonderworks" at 8 p.m., Monday, Oct. 7 and 14, on Mississippi ETV.

Konrad is mistakenly delivered to the eccentric Mrs. Bartolotti. When the factory realizes its mistake, it demands Konrad's return. But to his new mom, Konrad is nonreturnable, so she turns him into the kind of kid the factory won't ever take back.

COMPUTERIZED COTTON
"Farmweek" reporters will investigate a new computer program called GOSSYM that is designed to predict the success of cotton crops under specific circumstances. The story will air at 7:30 p.m., Monday, September 9, on Mississippi ETV.

GOSSYM is still being developed by USDA researchers at Mississippi State University and Clemson University, with the research being funded by the National Cotton Council and the Cotton Foundation.

When completed, the GOSSYM program should allow farmers to feed information into the computer about rainfall, irrigation, pest control and other factors, then predict the relative success of the options that the farmer could choose to encourage growth of the cotton.

Frank Mitchener of Sumner, one of the farmers who is already trying GOSSYM, will be interviewed on the program.

"Farmweek" is co-produced by Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Hancock School Board hears dissent on Gulfview addition

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County School Board has approved preliminary plans for adding six classrooms to Gulfview Elementary School, despite dissension from a board member who feels the rooms should be constructed for kindergarten students.

After architect Fred Wagner presented plans for the addition at a addition's two restrooms, sized to accomodate the number of fixtures required for 12 classrooms rather than six, be divided into restrooms and physical education dressing rooms with outside doors for access from the gymnasium.

The board instructed Wagner to include the dressing room proposal as an alternate in bid specifications. modules containing two rooms each $34,659 for three months, which will be reimbursed by emergency funds from the U.S. Department of Education; and special board meeting Monday night, Beat Five representative Lenette Necaise voted against the preliminary plans and the authorizing of Wagner to prepare specifications for an advertisement for bids because she feels the rooms should be kindergarten rooms.

Necaise has maintained since the project was proposed that the addition should consist of kindergarten classrooms.

She feels it would be less expensive to build them now than to renovate existing classrooms when schools must provide state-mandated kindergartens in 1988.

The State Department of Education requires that kindergarten classrooms contain restroom facilities.

Board President Billie Faye Lyons, however, has stated that the rest of the board feels the district should take care of its immediate needs, specifically an overcrowding problem that made the addition necessary.

Necaise also stated she feels that Wagner's fee is too high and that corner door and inset windows waste too much space in the building.

In addition, she proposed that the Other alternates will include carpeting as an alternative to floor tile, several types of wall covering including sheetrock, paneling and masonry, and other cost cutting measures.

The board also heard a report from Wagner on repairs to Hancock North Central, where the roof was damaged by Hurricane Elena.

Wagner said he is still in the process of compiling estimates for the insurance adjuster. He plans to make a report as soon as possible.

He said the entire elementary school building needs a new roof. Only parts of the junior high building roof are damaged, but spot repairs may not be possible and an entire new roof may be needed.

In other business, the board: —Authorized payment of $1,775 to Roberts Electric for emergency repairs on the hurricane-damaged roof at Gulfview and accepted Wagner's recommendation that they be declared temporary since the new material differs in material from the existing roof;

—Authorized Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph to lease three temporary classrooms

I really didn't know much about pasta in my "growing up" days - rice was the staple in households in New Orleans and along the Gulf Coast - and, except for occasional forays into Italian restaurants, that's the way it was with me for a long time.

Meatballs and spaghetti, heavy with tomato sauce - that was it as far as I was concerned. Until - came the awakening: There are so many other ways to cook pasta, from the finest, thinnest fettuccini to the broadest noodles - all delicious.

In the course of my days as a reporter on the old Item newspaper in New Orleans (the Item later was bought by the New Orleans States, and now are all merged into The Times-Picayune, The States-Item) as, first Newcomb College reporter, then general and feature reporter, I came into contact with a variety of individuals and cultures and customs - and food!

One of the most interesting was a delightful Italian lady, Carmen Nucio, a singer of talent and a cook of even more talents, who among others, fostered the romance of a couple of young reporters of Irish descent - and sang the "Ave Maria" at the wedding a few years later.

But, as usual, I digress - this Southerner, reared on jambalaya, shrimp creole, and so on, soon developed a taste for pasta in the course of the courtship, and learned that there was much, much more to pasta than the tomato sauces I had sampled heretofore.

And, oh what a boon to a young couple's budget! As one of the first in our group to marry, we enjoyed having friends over for dinner - and I quickly learned that fettuccini or spaghetti sauced with olive oil and garlic and fresh parsley and green onions and such, heavily dusted with Parmesan or Romano cheese - and, perhaps, on payday, with a measure of crabmeat or shrimp or ham - and such added - served quite well as a party dish.

It was well understood that someone else brought the wine, and someone else the salad - or, at least, the tomatoes, and we all had a good time. In these days of inflation-upon-inflation, we're all going back to those days - and "pooling our suppers" as we get together for a festive meal, aren't we?

Again, I digress - it's just such a meal I wanted to tell about. The other evening, I had expected out-of-town company for a shrimp spaghetti dinner. Their plans were changed, so I had a bit extra on hand - so, asked a couple of friends over.

A couple of others joined us, you know how that goes, so what had been planned as an ample dinner for four, would be a rather skimpy supper for a few more - so, I added extra mushrooms and celery and such to the shrimp in their sauce, turned out a can of petit pois peas (I know, I'm a crusader for fresh vegetables, but I prefer the canned tiny peas to the frozen or fresh marbles.)

If I hadn't eaten the broccoli for lunch, along with the snap beans, I would have added those, too - but, it all turned out fine. So, here's:

STRETCH-TOE SHRIMP SPAGHETTI

8 to 10 oz. spaghetti, fettuccini or thin spaghetti.
1 lb. fresh shrimp, peeled, deveined (or make 'em do their own)
1 cup olive oil
2 cloves garlic, finely-chopped
1/2 cup chopped parsley
8 oz. fresh mushrooms, sauteed in 2 Tbsp. butter
Coarse ground pepper, salt if desired

Heat the olive oil with the garlic (if you don't want to chop it, just peel and crush slightly with a wooden spoon or heavy-bladed knife.) Meanwhile, cook the thin spaghetti or what have you just "al dente" - a bit crunchy to the teeth - not overcooked and mushy, and keep it warm.

Saute the shrimp a bit in a bit of butter, or in the fragrant oil, and add this and the mushrooms and parsley and fresh ground pepper to the spaghetti and toss it all together.

If you've any fresh vegetables about, as above, add them also, and turn the whole business on a warm platter and douse liberally with grated Parmesan cheese. Enjoy! (Six or so servings, depending upon hunger of the diners.)

Researcher to present AIDS findings

A University of Southern Mississippi researcher will discuss the impact of the Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) disease on the gay community at the 1985 National Association of Social Workers Symposium Nov. 6-8.

James D. "Don" Smith, director of admissions for the Graduate School of Social Work at USM, will address the Chicago symposium on his research performed in Virginia the last two years.

The Brookhaven native spent one year on sabbatical leave working on a doctorate degree at Virginia Commonwealth University. Administrative leave during the second year allowed him to work with Richmond University's integrated social work program while enrolling in several additional courses.

Smith said AIDS first was identified as a disease in 1981 and, during the past four years, has spread in a manner considered by many medical experts to be epidemic in nature.

"AIDS is a very serious, life-threatening disease for which there is no known cure," he said during a recent interview. "To date, 71 percent of people diagnosed as having AIDS in the United States have been gay men and the impact of the disease on the gay community has been staggering."

"As the number of cases of AIDS increases, the impact of knowledge about the disease grows more crucial for social work therapists who see gay male clients," he ad-

ed. Smith's initial research efforts center around a number of social work intervention strategies that may be helpful to male couples who have experienced recent problems in their relationships. He links medical aspects of the disease and the effects on individual gay men and their relationships through the presentation of a typology of gay male relationships.

Smith's focus is on men who are most likely to seek help from social workers in clinical practice, although he offers information useful for community-based intervention as well.

During his presentation, Smith will discuss the impact of AIDS on changes in sexual behavior; compulsive sexuality as it affects choice of relationship style; psycho-social barriers to intimacy; and reported changes in sexual mores within the primarily gay community.

Smith says, "There is a need for reconceptualizing gay sexuality in a more client-supportive manner, exploring constants and innovations of positive gay relationships."

Support systems, resource development, history and status of relationships, confrontation, responding, dimensions of fear and acceptance also will be highlighted during the talk.

An employee of USM since 1979, Smith received a bachelor's degree from Mississippi College in 1967 and a master's degree from Tulane University in 1970.

Prison.....

you build this facility is unrealistic. This way we'd be able to keep these people under supervision and send the most dangerous ones to Parchman," Chambers said.

He said there are more people on parole for murder, rape and armed robbery in the coastal counties now than would be housed in the proposed satellite prison.

Chambers added that numerous others are being housed in county jails, awaiting transfer to Parchman.

The satellite prison is not the same as a correctional work center, which was proposed in Waveland earlier this year. That facility would house only 75 men with most being minimum security prisoners on the trusty level.

The prisoners in both facilities would be available as labor for county and city projects.

The work center was turned down for Waveland because a site could not be found inside the city. Waveland instead proposed that the work center be made a tri-county project with a site in Bay St. Louis or the county.

Unlike the satellite prison, which would have its own sewage and water facilities, the work center would have to be located where it could be connected to city utilities.

The county had previously discussed a work center but a proposed site at Stennis Airport was turned down because residents of the Kiln area opposed it.

All six counties represented expressed interest in the satellite but some opposed locating it in a populated area.

Harrison County Board of Supervisors President Billy McDonald said he does not plan to propose a site in Harrison County because population is too dense.

Robert Maxwell, a representative of Congressman Trent Lott's office, said Lott supports having a satellite prison on the Coast because it will create jobs, cut down on the costs of transporting prisoners to Parchman and cut down on a problem with staff vacancies at the penitentiary.

Maxwell and Jackson County District Attorney Michael Moore urged the group to take action within the next two weeks on selection of a primary site and an alternate site.

The sites must be presented to the Mississippi Legislature for approval and possible funding, Chambers said. He recommended that they be presented to legislative committees before the full legislature convenes in January.

The supervisors are expected to consider proposed sites or refusal to propose a site on Monday and the group will meet later next week to choose two sites.

supervisor from Gulfport, who told the board that old timber has accumulated under that bridge and limits the amount of water that can flow under it.

Moody said the highway department is also considering doing some channel work under the US-90 bridge and possibly in the bayou itself.

Both recommendations were approved.

The board also heard complaints Monday from several residents of flooded areas.

Kenneth Shipman and Shirley Shipman of Fire Tower Road appeared before the board to request assistance with the correction of drainage on their property from Beat Five Supervisor James Travirca.

They complained that a drainage ditch on their property has now eroded to depths of 14 feet and floods onto their property.

Travirca agreed to look at the problem and said he may be able to build up the sides of the ditch to help relieve the flooding.

Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perniciaro heard complaints from several residents of Teal Street in Shoreline Park.

Most of the complaints, however, were directed to Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge from residents of Springwood Park and BaySide Park subdivisions.

FIRE DISTRICT OFFICERS—East Hancock Fire Protection District President Ethel Breaux of Jourdan River Estates presents a plaque of appreciation to outgoing district president Erskine Skelton of Shoreline Park. Other new district officers installed in recent ceremonies at East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department's station house on Chapman Road include Donald Simoneaux of Garden Island, vice president; Tom Stinson of Shoreline Park, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Little of Jourdan River Isles, commissioner.

Bay mayor checks utility tree-trimming

Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor Frankiewicz Jr. this week moved to prevent felling of trees on city rights-of-way without prior permission.

"Trimming operations following Hurricane Elena have resulted in the unnecessary destruction of many of the city's trees, thereby compounding the natural loss caused by the hurricane. The cutting down of any tree on the streets of the city is hereby prohibited, unless specifically authorized in writing by the city," the mayor's notice to power, telephone and cable-TV companies and their contractors and agents states.

Frankiewicz said a notice advising that a city ordinance prohibits cutting down trees without permission was given to crews after several residents complained about tree-cutting on Melody Lane by Asplundh, a contractor for Mississippi Power Co.

Formal notices to utility companies and their contractors were to be sent out Tuesday or Wednesday, he said.

The mayor said he has also received "sporadic" complaints from other areas of the city, but said when he checked them out they didn't appear to be as serious as on Melody Lane, where six sizeable hardwood trees were felled.

"Mississippi Power Co. has been most cooperative," he said. "They thought they were doing what they should be doing."

Frankiewicz said that some trees have been cut on private property as well as city rights-of-way at the request of property owners who have contracted privately with the tree-trimmers.

Also, he said, city right-of-way throughout Bay St. Louis vary anywhere from 18 feet (on both sides of a street) to 66 feet.

MPC spokesman John L. Hutchinson said he was not aware of any complaints about tree-cutting in Bay St. Louis, but said regular tree-trimming work has been accelerated following Hurricane Elena.

"The first time the crews went through, they basically cut enough limbs out of the way to get the lines back up," he said. "Now they're having to go back and trim so outages won't occur down the road."

The power company uses Asplundh as well as its own crews for tree-trimming, Hutchinson said. "There're qualified tree surgeons. They know what they're doing," he said.

Supervisors advise against raising fire district tax

BY DENA BISNETTE

Diamondhead Fire Protection District has requested the county's support for a proposed local and private bill designed to increase the district's millage.

Herb Garner, spokesman for the district, said the request for more millage is the result of an increase in operating expenses and the number of homes within the district.

He said the number of homes included in the district has doubled during the past several years.

By law, a fire protection district can collect two mills.

However, there is a 10 percent cap on collections which prohibits any district from collecting more than 10 percent over the amount collected the previous year.

For that reason, the Diamondhead district is not collecting the full two mills. Instead, its tax levy is 1.54 mills.

Board attorney Walter Gex advised ed against trying to raise the millage levy because the 10 percent cap would still keep the district from collecting more than it presently collects.

"If you can get the cap removed it may suffice," Gex said.

He pointed out that residents of Diamondhead already pay some of the highest taxes in the county and would probably oppose another tax.

Board of Supervisors President A.A. Kellar added that the millage for this year has been set and no changes can become effective until next year.

Deer season opens Sat.

This upcoming weekend will be a big one for many state hunters. Saturday morning, Oct. 5, begins the archery season on deer which will continue through Nov. 22.

Latest figures from the Department of Wildlife Conservation suggest that as many as 40,000 hunters may take advantage of this special hunting season. Last year bowhunters harvested nearly 20,000 deer.

The bag limit during the bow season is one antlered buck per day, but no more than five during the license year. In addition, one antlerless deer may be taken, but no more than three of them per license year.

Deer taken during the archery season apply toward the overall yearly bag limit on deer.

Hunting hours during the archery season are one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset.

Enforcement officials are reminding hunters that long bows are legal during the archery season on deer, except for those who are disabled and qualify for a crossbow license.

No dogs or sidearms allowed while hunting deer during the archery season.

Bowhunters who operate a deer camp during this special season, must obtain a camp permit from the Department of Wildlife Conservation in Jackson before beginning operation. The permit is free.

Resident bowhunters must have a sportsman's license, or an all game hunting and fishing license and the archery/primitive weapon permit, before hunting.

Coast celebrates homecoming by devastating Bible Baptist

RED RAIDER Quarterback Mike Hart (21) scored twice for Coast Episcopal against Bible Baptist Academy Saturday.

Coast Episcopal High School celebrated Homecoming Saturday with a 42 to 0 victory over Bible Baptist Academy of Gulfport.

Raiders John Gregory and Mike Hart provided first quarter scoring with 5-yard and 1-yard TD runs, respectively.

Both PAT's were no good. First quarter score ended 12 to 0.

Paul Montjoy for CEHS intercepted a Bible Baptist Conquerors' pass to open second quarter play.

However, Conqueror Scott Tillman returned the favor by intercepting a Hart pass.

A Bible Baptist TD pass of 40 yards from Eric Franc to Elliot McGlory was called back for illegal procedure.

Raider Judson Scott then intercepted and ran the ball in from 25 yards for the third Raider touchdown. The PAT was again no good, setting the score at 18 to 0.

Montjoy recovered a Bible Baptist fumble which was converted into another TD on a 40-yard pass completed by Hart to Dylan Langdon.

Again the PAT was no good. Score at halftime was 24 to 0.

CEHS regained the momentum in the third quarter with Hart scoring on a 5-yard run.

The PAT was no good. Bible Baptist trying to open up the CEHS defense attempted a series of passes resulting in Raider Scott again intercepting.

CEHS quickly scored with a 10-yard TD run by Gregory.

Conqueror Eric Smith recovered a fumble. However BBC were forced into a passing effort to score.

Chris Riggs intercepted for CEHS. Hart scored his second TD giving CEHS a 36 to 0 score.

Riggs of CEHS intercepted again after the kickoff and Hart scampered over from the 5-yard line for his third TD. Final score was 42 to 0.

CEHS amassed 351 yards total offense. Coach Kearney Bobinger elected to kick the PAT throughout the game.

Dynamite ties Goal Busters, 1-1

Gifts-n-Gold Dynamite tied Slidell's Goal Busters 1-1 in a Saturday's girls soccer match.

A shot by Kristy Heitzmann was deflected into the goal by one of the Goal Busters.

Dynamite dominated the game in spite of the absence of four team members.

Each girl played multiple positions. There were nine forwards, eight halfbacks, 10 fullbacks, four sweepers and three goalies throughout the game.

"We feel that a girl's playing more than one position enables her to better understand the overall team effort and to become a more well-rounded soccer player," said coaches Rachel Weinstein and Kathy Edwards.

Hawks to use balanced offensive attack to halt Stanislaus Rocks

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

With identical season records of two wins and a single loss, county rivals Hancock North Central and St. Stanislaus will meet Friday at the Hawk stadium.

HNC Coach Irvin Favre said he wants the Hawk offense to continue giving a balanced attack of running and throwing the ball.

"Mixing it up has been good for us so far this year and with good blocking by the offensive line, we plan to give the Rocks a hard time," he said.

The offensive line has really done a good job throughout the season, Favre said.

The Hawk offense has scored a total of 72 points or 11 touchdowns so far this season against their three opponents.

"Defensively, we must play a game like we did last week," he said, "we just want to come back and do it again."

The Hawks will not be keying on any one person, but putting up a solid defensive effort, he said.

Favre said the rain had shortened practice time some this week but he did not expect that to cause any problems.

"One thing we are looking forward to is cool weather for the game this week," he said.

"We know that when it comes to playing the Rocks all the records and statistics can be thrown out because they will really putting a lot of pressure on us," Favre added.

Pirates prepare for Stone

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Pass Christian Pirates, still looking for their first win of the season, will be traveling to Stone County Friday to take on the Tomcats on their home field.

"We have changed up a little, switching defensive personnel," Pirate Coach Alton Wright said.

"We are putting some of our better athletes at linebacker and defensive end," he added.

Wright said he plans to put a quick player at the noseguard position.

Offensively, there will be two tight ends to give a lot of power at the front, he said.

"We plan to force them to play us a straight defense and if they adjust to that we will return to going wide and throwing the football," Wright added.

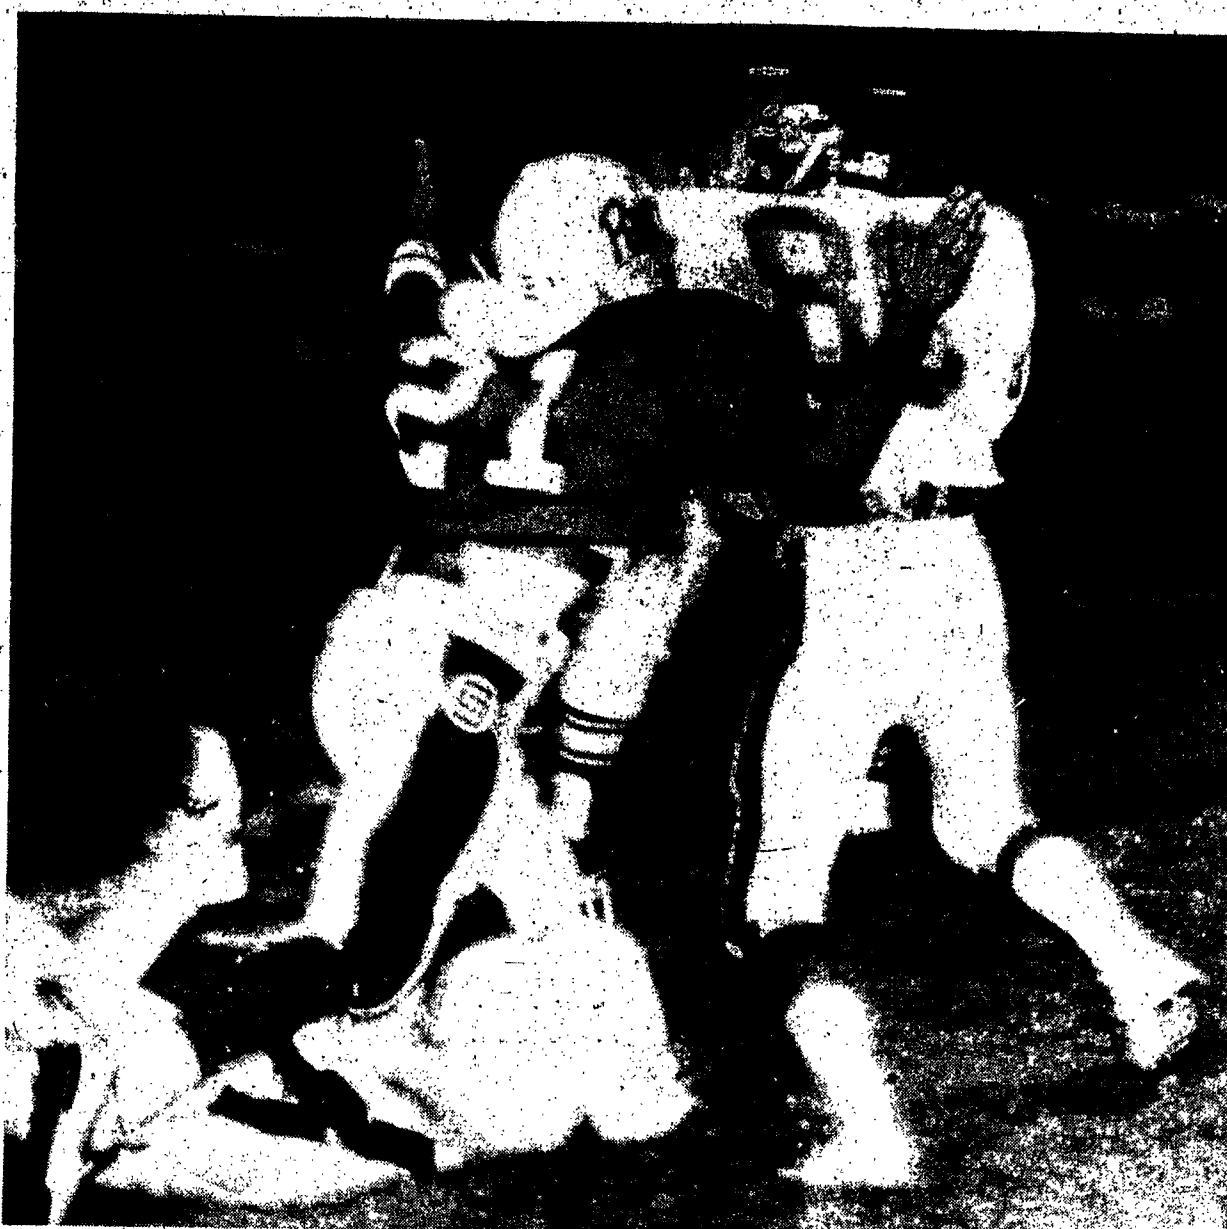

According to Wright, the low number of players has really hurt the Pirates this year.

"We only have 23 players and that is not enough to turn over on offense and defense," he said.

There are nine Pirate players that have to go both ways, the coach added.

"We never quit but we just don't have the personnel that most of the teams we play do," he said.

Wright said the Pirates have skilled people but not enough to match the other teams in numbers.

The Hancock North Central Hawks, coming off a big victory over Pass Christian last week, host the St. Stanislaus Rockachaws Friday night at Hawk Stadium in The Kiln. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Hancock boasts a talented offensive unit, led by quarterback Brett Favre and running backs Stanley Jordan and Charles Burton.

St. Stanislaus is led by running back Todd Thriffley and receivers David Zanca, Arthur Wynne and Lon Baxter.

Rockachaw quarterback Jimmy Dempsey has thrown three touchdown passes thus far this year.

"I would imagine that we would have to be listed as the underdogs this week after what Long Beach did to us last week," commented Rock Head Coach Vernon Powell.

"Hancock is a very big, strong team. We must be able to hold our own on the line of scrimmage in order to be competitive in this ballgame. There is so much talent on that team that is impossible to concentrate on stopping any one individual. It must be a team effort on our part if we are to win the ballgame," Powell stated.

Hancock North Central presently is 3-1, and St. Stanislaus is 2-1, with wins over Mercy Cross and St. John after losing to Long Beach last week.

This is the first meeting of two of the three teams (Hancock, SSC and Bay High) who battle each other during the season for the mythical county championship.

Tigers to face East Central in last conference battle

BY DENA BISNETTE

The undefeated Bay High Tigers fight their last conference battle Friday as they host the East Central Hornets.

A victory against East Central will give the Tigers the 1985 Deep South Conference title as well as a berth in district play-offs.

According to Tiger Head Coach Cleveland Williams, Bay High's defense will have to be ready for anything Friday.

"East Central has a balanced attack with a quick backfield and a quarterback who can throw well," Williams said.

In addition to stopping the ball on the ground or in the air, the Tigers will have to deal with a line larger than their own.

"Their offensive line weight is an average of 210 pounds, and on defense they are exceptionally quick, hard-nosed kids," the coach added.

Offensively, Bay High will have to turn in a better performance against East Central than they did last week in their 7-0 victory over Vanceave, their fourth conference opponent.

"Last week we did poorly on our execution, along with other mental breakdowns. We are working harder for this game because of the importance of this contest," Williams said.

"We're not going to do anything different, but we are going back to the basic things that have brought us this far."

Although Williams feels the offensive play needs work, he is pleased with the Tiger defense.

"I'm expecting a hard-hitting contest and we'll have to be extra careful on defense because they can scare us with that balanced attack."

"There is still a lot of room for improvement, but defensively we played our best game against Vanceave. We held our opponents to minus 17 yards total rushing and gave up only six yards passing," he commented.

The Bay High defensive unit has held its opponents to yardage deficits twice this season. Pass Christian, also a conference opponent, was held to a two-yard deficit in the Tigers' second game.

Williams said his defense has given up only 19 points in the four games played so far.

In addition to Vanceave and Pass Christian, Bay High has defeated the Stone County Tomcats and the Pearl River Central Blue Devils.

Stone County was last year's conference champion. The victory against Pearl River, in addition to posting another conference win on the Tiger record, snapped a six-year losing streak against the Blue Devils.

The Tigers' starting line-up for Friday is expected to include, on offense, Butch Pierce, center; Trace McRaney and Geja Carter, guard; Craig Breland and Greg Necaise, tackle; Dennis Dear, split end; Stace McRaney, tight end; Matt Fairconnetue, wingback; Willie Lewis, running back; Louis Burton, fullback; and Quentin Bell, quarterback.

The defensive starters are expected to include Lewis, Trace McRaney, Carter, Stace McRaney, Jerry Island, Burton, Breland, Necaise, Dear, Fairconnetue and Jessie Parker.

Gametime is 7:30 at Tiger Stadium.

STOP—Bay High tackle Craig Breland (63) stops a Vanceave lineman in action from last week's game which the Tigers won 7-0. Bay High faces East Central in the Tigers' last conference game Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

SMART line operating

The toll-free "SMART-line" to report wildlife violations has been installed at the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation (MDWC) in Jackson. The special line, with the number 1-800-BE SMART (1-800-237-6278), is answered by MDWC radio room operators, and the reports are then forwarded to conservation officers.

Operators have received instructions to accept calls only from those people reporting wildlife or fisheries violations. All other calls, such as requests for information or questions concerning licenses or registrations, are being referred to the regular MDWC phone number. The toll-free number is paid for by the SMART Council, not by state government funds.

MDWC Chief of Law Philip Strong believes that the SMART-line is a great service to the department and to the people of the state.

"The best thing about the toll-free number," says Strong, "is that people now have the opportunity to report violations, without spending their own money to do it, and those operators who take the calls are in direct communication with our officers 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

"There haven't been a lot of calls yet, but we expect them to increase as the hunting seasons really get underway and as the public becomes more aware of the toll-free number," said Strong.

Those wishing to report a wildlife or fisheries violation can call 1-800-BE SMART (1-800-237-6278) anytime, day or night. Be prepared to describe the violation, including the time and place it occurred.

Any information which might help law enforcement officers, such as tag numbers or vehicle identification, should also be reported if possible.

State-wide SMART sponsors include the Mississippi Wildlife Federation, Mississippi BASS Federation, Mississippi Bowhunters Association, Mississippi Chapter of the National Wild Turkey Federation, Mississippi Cattlemen's Association, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation, Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, Mississippi Forestry Association, Mississippi Firearms Owners Association, Mississippi Muzzleloading Hunters Association, Mississippi Trappers Association, and the 62 Conservation Association.

The toll-free number is only part of the SMART program, which is designed to improve outdoor ethics, encourage better landowner-sportsman cooperation, and improve the image of hunters and hunting. A public awareness campaign is underway to advertise the SMART-line and the entire program.

Bumper stickers with the SMART-line number are available from any of the participating organizations or from the Mississippi Wildlife Federation office at P.O. Box 1814, Jackson, MS 39206.

The bumper stickers are free—however, a contribution of $2.50 per sticker would help reduce production and mailing costs and allow SMART to print and distribute even more of the stickers.

YOUTH SECTION

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1985-1C

Bay area Girl Scouts trek across Mississippi

The rich heritage and hospitality of the state of Mississippi came together for 41 Girl Scouts as they toured the state Aug. 2-10. Bay St. Louis Girl Scouts Tori Kimbrell, Katie Cuevas, Jennifer Burrows and Alice Holmes joined girls from throughout the Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council for "Mississippi

This Girl Scout unit that overlooks Grenada Lake was one of the scenic overnight stopping places for participants in the state tour.

Watching this potter at Floewood, a state-owned working plantation in Greenwood, was just one of the activities during the Girl Scout trek.

Flag burning highlights Girl Scout registration

Highlighting the Bay-Waveland Girl Scout registration ceremonies was a flag burning ceremony at the Waveland Library Sept. 25.

The ceremony was conducted by Brownie Troop 66 and Junior Troop 257. American Legion Post 77 presented the flag to the Girl Scouts to fly at the Waveland Library as a replacement for the one that was damaged by Hurricane Elena.

The flag bearer was Junior Girl Scout Michael Stone. Liz Ferrell and Leslie Duhe are leaders of the troops.

Trek II," an educational travel opportunity for Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts.

The trek took the Girl Scouts from the Gulf Coast to Tupelo with stops in Meridian, Starkville, the Delta and Vicksburg. Each stop was filled with historical visits to antebellum homes and Civil War parks.

The diversity of "Mississippi today" was evident as the girls visited the Coast's seafood industry, the Neshoba County Fair, the Navy Air Base in Meridian, and the campuses of Mississippi State and University of Mississippi. Warm, Southern hospitality was present everywhere the trek took the Girl Scouts.

Gulf Pines Council field director, Mary Shelton and volunteer adult advisor, Shirley Draughn, both of Petal, coordinated the trip.

The Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council, a United Way agency, sponsors educational-travel opportunities for girls ages 12 to 18 each year as a part of their Cadette/Senior Girl Scout program.

Trips scheduled for the future include a visit to a Girl Scout center in Mexico. More information about Girl Scouting is available at the Gulf Pines Girl Scout office, 582-0284.

Faces at Girl Scout Day Camp—

More than 90 campers enjoyed the activities at the Bay-Waveland area Girl Scout Day Camp this summer. The activities included swimming, singing, crafts, hikes, sports and archery.

Visiting the Neshoba County Fair near Philadelphia was a colorful and fun stop for Scouts on a trek across Mississippi.

Girl Scouts had to "rough it" during state tour overnight stops at Camp Merridale in Meridian.

Musings

"Suburbs" were quite different in biblical times than they are today. They were the common land or open country around villages used by both the shepherds and herders who lived in the villages. They are mentioned especially in connection with the cities to be given to the Levites in Canaan. "And the cities shall they have to dwell in; and the suburbs of them shall be for their cattle, and for their goods, and for all their beasts."

USM fall short courses set

The University of Southern Mississippi's 1985 Fall Short Courses program features a wide variety of non-credit classes for people who want to develop a new skill, brush up on an old skill or unleash creative energies for knowledge, fun and self-fulfillment.

The tentative fall schedule includes more than 40 evening courses in the broad areas of language and literature, music and art, science and technology, sports and recreation and special interests.

Creative writing, beginning Spanish, vocal techniques for choir members, basic photography, beginning guitar, art for children, practical computing, swimming, tennis, gymnastics, self-defense twirling and genealogy are just a few of the many courses offered for adults and children this fall by USM's Division of Lifelong Learning.

The courses are taught evenings Monday through Thursday, usually once a week or each class, for a varying number of weeks, depending on the subject matter. The fees range from $10 for a course entitled "University Chorus" to $140 for "How to Play Piano Despite Years of Lessons."

Sometimes, classes must be cancelled because of insufficient enrollment. The university reserves the right to cancel, postpone, limit enrollment, split or combine classes, change instructor or change class locations. Full refunds will be made for classes that are cancelled.

Registration may be completed in person at the Central Registration Office, Room 306, McLemore Hall, from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday; by mail, by completing a registration form and returning it with fee to Short Courses, Division of Lifelong Learning, Southern Station Box 5136, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39406-5136; or by telephoning 266-4201, provided the caller holds a VISA or Mastercard credit card.

Head of World Council for Gifted to speak at USM

The second annual conference on parenting gifted children, at the University of Southern Mississippi Oct. 5 will feature an internationally known educator in the field of the gifted and talented. Dr. James A. Gallagher, director of the Frank Porter Graham Child Development Center and Kenan Professor of Education at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, will be the featured guest speaker for the conference.

Sponsored by the Center for Gifted Studies in the Department of Special Education at USM, the conference is designed to assist parents and other concerned adults in better understanding the intellectual, academic, social-emotional, and physical needs of gifted and talented children.

Gallagher, who has served as a deputy assistant secretary and an associate commissioner in the U.S. Office of Education in Washington, D.C., has been an officer and board member in many professional organizations—including board member for the Council for Exceptional Children and the National Association for Gifted Children. He also has served as president of the World Council for Gifted and Talented Children from 1981-85.

His publications list more than 70 books, monographs or chapters in books, 50 articles, and six reviews.

According to Dr. Frances Karnes, director of the parenting conference and USM's Center for Gifted Studies, conference topics will include Stress and the Gifted Child, Developing Leadership Skills, parents' Role in Gifted Education, and Problem-Solving Skills for Life.

Registration for the conference will be held from 8-8:30 a.m. Oct. 5 in Bennett Auditorium on the USM campus. The day's activities include an open house at the home of USM President, Dr. Aubrey K. Lucas, prior to the 6 p.m. Golden Eagle-Southwestern Louisiana football game.

Pre-registration for the conference is required by Sept. 15. Interested persons should contact Caroline Barnes, USM Lifelong Learning, Southern Station Box 5056, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39406, or call (601) 336-4189.
